STORM PANELS

STORM PANELS

- Great Value
- Easier to handle than plywood
- Mounting hardware pre installed for quick deployment
- Small storage requirement
- Can be reused unlike plywood
- Storm panels will not attract termites
- Available in Steel, Aluminum or Clear Lexan
- Protects openings from wind driven rain

Storm Panels protect your home's interior from violent wind and driving rains. The panels stay securely in place to keep the elements on the outside and reduce uplift pressure on your roof from the inside.

Storm Panels are much easier to handle than heavy plywood sheets and are easily stored away. The panels nest compactly in a neat stack taking little storage space.

Headers, tracks & sills come in white or bronze.
Panels are mill finish or clear.
